“There are those who rebel against the light, who do not know it’s ways or stay in it’s paths.” Job 24:13

This verse is so true today. Tamarindo, Costa Rica has so much rebellion going on that it does not even know that there is a path to follow. There is no church in Tamarindo. That’s right, not even a Catholic church in this Latin town. And if anyone knows a little about Latin countries; they would know that a (Catholic) church is the corner stone of any village, town and or city. Please be praying about helping me and others who would love to start a church in Tamarindo, Costa Rica.

This past April, I was served at a local Navarre Beach surf contest, where they appreciated having the truth spoken and there were many who were willing to serve. Then a week later my girlfriend Erin; who is an equestrian rider, rode in a local event. We prayed that we could be a example of God’s truth and light to others. And we did receive a few opportunities. We did get to pray with one and we hope that seed will grow fruit.

During May 09 it was great seeing other missionaries from around during the Pensacola Area Missions Conference week. Pastor Josh Lipscomb ( a very blessed & talented man of God over North Campus Liberty) had me speak at both services in early May. I pray that the message and vision that God has for me came across clearly. I now have an updated DVD on missions in Central America. Contact me and we will set up a time or a link for you to watch it.

Please be praying with me about a chance to do another mission trip to Central America in mid July, 09. Pray for blessings on finances of ground transportation, hotel, food, bottled water and more. The estimated total is $2,200 for 22 days. I will be with a great group of Christian guys and we will be encouraging other Christian leardes, feeding & educating the poor/ homeless, helping the street kids and several outreaches in Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Guatemala & El Salvador. There are several more details and if you would like to know more please contact me. Facebook: Sean Bullington/ Panama City; www.SeanBullington.com Skype- seano771 or seano771@msn.com
